NEW FLYING SHIP.

The San Francisco Bulletin gives the following account of the new flying ship: Among the new inventions which have been aided by the Inventors and Mechan-ics' Association lately organized in this city, is a machine for navigating the sir, the sustaining power being gas, and the propelling agent an electrical engine. though the two do not necessarily go to-gether; any power may be used that will gether; any power may be used that will suffice to turn a couple of wheels, which are provided with sails so arranged as to press against the atmosphere on the back stroke and folded up so as not to be impeded on the forward motion. The opening and closing of the sails is by an eccentric, and the appearance of the model is certainly favorable to success. The model is only six or seven feet in The model is only six or seven feet in length and four or five in width, running to a sharp angle front and rear, instead of eigar-shaped like the Avitor. The wheels are placed at the side, like those on a side-wheel steamer. The machinery if the thing proves a success, will be in the center, leaving a cabin for pas-sengers and freight fore and aft. The sengers and freight fore and att. The model is provided with an upper and under canvas apartment, to be filled with gas, and, if necessary, toy balloons will be attached, to give the machine the necessary buoyancy. The inventor does not wish to have his name mentioned until he is a little more sure of the re-

A REPENTANT LOVER .- Archibald Dun-A REPENTANT LOVER.—Archibald Dunlop has just died in the neig glorhood of Troy, N. Y. Many years ago he broke an engagement to marry, and now has just left the jilted lady a snug ten thousand. In his will he thus tells the gentle story: "Many years ago, before my acquaintance with the late Mrs. Dunlop, I was engaged to Miss Aiken, which engagement, for certain reasons, was broken gagement, for certain reasons, was broken by me. I have not seen her for more than thirty years, but know that she is still alive, and now, for partial repara-tion for the wrong committed, and should she still live at the time of my death, and will receive it, I direct that and my executors pay to her, in three equal installments, within twelve months, the sum of $10,000; should she refuse to receive it the amount to revert to my dugiter Jessie." It is stated that the laly has accepted the offer and received the money.

POSTPONED!

The drawing will take place at Virginia, Nevada, the time of which due notice will be given so soon as enough tickets have been sold to pay the State proportion for the Assylum Fund, as well as the Prizes in full, that being the purpose of the Trustees.

All unsold tickets in the hands of Agents will be called in before the time set for drawing.
